U-BOATS SINK TWO STEAMERS OFF AMERICAN COAST

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

An Atlantic Port, Oct. 28.—Reports received here from a life saving station by telephone this afternoon say that the crews from two steamships reported to have been sunk off the American coast by submarines have been landed at two New Jersey towns.

New York, Oct. 28.—Germany has started a new submarine campaign off the American coast.

Reports reaching here this afternoon from several coast towns tell of sinkings in North Atlantic waters last night, at the very time when German and Austrian peace notes were being dispatched to Washington by the Central Powers.

The coast guards at Manahawken, N. J., have received reports of the torpedoing of a Spanish steamer ten miles off Barnegat last night at 10 o'clock. The steamer was loaded with sugar and carried a crew of twenty-nine. Twenty-three survivors were landed, eleven being picked up near the lighthouse at Barnegat City and twelve at Forked River, N. J. The men were in their night clothes and had suffered severely from exposure.

None of the survivors of the Spanish steamer could speak English, it is reported, and the name of their vessel could not be immediately obtained. Persons living at High Point, N. J., report that they heard an explosion at sea distinctly about 10 o'clock last night. It is said that the vessel sank in five minutes.

New York, Oct. 28.—No official news of the sinking of one or two ships off the New Jersey coast has been received by officials of the third naval district, it was said at the office of Rear Admiral Usher this afternoon. An unofficial report of the sinking of one ship, possibly by a torpedo or mine, was received. There was an inclination to discredit the torpedo theory. It was made plain that the report was vague and without confirmation.

126,565 PRISONERS TAKEN THIS MONTH

Summary of Successes on the Western Battle Front During the Month of October.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Oct. 28.—The Allies have captured 126,565 prisoners and 2,-165 guns on the western battle front so far this month, divided as follows:

British—51,900 prisoners and 800 guns.

French—38,000 prisoners and 865 guns.

Americans—24,415 prisoners and 200 guns.

Belgians—10,800 prisoners and 80 guns.

The most important sector of the western front during the past week was the district between the Scarpe and Oise rivers, where the Allies are hammering the German center. These blows are expected to force retirements northward past the Escaut river towards the Dendre canal with the Germans falling back at the same time southwards behind the Oise. The immediate task of the British is to outflank the region of the Canal du Conde as far as Mons. This would result in the retirements mentioned.

The Italian offensive in the Trentino region, where the left flank rests, should progress at least ten miles, making sure the flank which guards all of the lateral lines of communication. This movement probably will be carried out before an attempt is made to drive the Germans from the Venetian plains.

The Austrian morale is known to be low and with a simultaneous blow on the front of the Danube river the Allies should be able to free all Italian soil before there are any peace negotiations.

GERMAN NOTE REACHES WASHINGTON

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Germany's acknowledgement of President Wilson's note of October 23 was received at the Swiss legation shortly before 11 o'clock today. The note was at once translated. A cursory inspection indicated that the text was practically the same as that sent out by the German wireless.

Charge Oederlin will present the note to Secretary Lansing this afternoon.

It is not expected that the president will take any action of any sort so far as the German situation is concerned until he has received from the Entente Allies their decision on the armistice request sent on by him following the receipt of the German not of October 20.

LUDENDORFF TO HEAD COUNTERREVOLUTION

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Oct. 28.—General Ludendorff, whose resignation has just been accepted by the kaiser, will head a counter revolution in Germany, according to a dispatch from the Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Mail today.

German conservatives, during the past week, started a movement to have Ludendorff named chancellor and then sign peace themselves, the Daily Mail dispatch added.

ARCHDUKES TAKE REFUGE IN CASTLE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Zurich, Oct. 28.—All of the Austrian archdukes have taken refuge in a castle near Budapest, fearing revolution in Vienna, said advices from the Austrian capital today.

Demonstrations are taking place in Budapest. The Magyar national council has proclaimed its supremacy over the existing authority. Young men are organizing for military purposes and crowds are parading through the streets of the Hungarian capital denouncing the alliance with Germany.

Count Karolyi has been unable to check the movement.

SUNDAY WAR NEWS BRIEFLY REVIEWED

Important new advances have been made by Allied armies in three theaters of the war.

French troops, attacking over a fifteen-mile front northeast of Laon, on the western battlefield, pushed forward five miles at some points, reaching the outskirts of the important German base at Guise. West of Chateau Porcien and north of the Aisne river the French have broken into the Hunding line. Numerous villages have been taken and since October 24 the French have captured nearly 4,000 prisoners. The British have repulsed numerous counter attacks.

Renewing their drive on the middle sector of the Piave river, the Italians crossed the stream and in conjunction with the British pressed forward about three miles. In the Monte Grappa sector, further north, where the Italian assault was first begun last Thursday, the Austro-Hungarians have been launching heavy counter attacks in a vain effort to win back lost mountain heights.

General Allenby's British army in Palestine, pressing onward north of Damascus, have captured the Turkish base at Aleppo and cut the lines of communication supplying the Turkish army in Mesopotamia. The Turkish Mesopotamian army now lies at the mercy of the British.

(Aleppo is nearly 200 miles north of Damascus).

WILSON OPPOSED TO PUNISHING GERMANY

That is What he Meant by "Equality of Trade Conditions," he Says in Letter to Senator Simmons—Dodges Tariff Issue.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 28.—If permanent peace is to be established among nations, every obstacle that has stood in the way of international friendship should be cast aside—there should be no economic restrictions against some nations that did not apply to all nations.

This, President Wilson explained this afternoon in a letter to Senator Simmons, was what he had in mind when he enunciated Paragraph Three of his fourteen peace principles, before congress on January 8.

The letter was in reply to a note from Senator Simmons, saying that Republican leaders were "attempting to make a partisan use" of the pronouncement that economic barriers, after the war, should be removed.

That the president had in mind no economic punishment for Germany was indicated when he told Senator Simmons that experiences of the past "have taught us that the attempt by one nation to punish another, by exclusive and discriminatory trade agreements has been a prolific breeder of the kind of antagonism which often times results in war and that if a permanent peace is to be established among nations, every obstacle that has stood in the way of international friendship must be cast aside."

To pervert this great principle, the president, says, and to "inject the bogey of free trade, which is not involved at all, is to attempt to "divert the mind of the nation from the broad and humane principles of a durable peace."

The president's letter follows:

"Dear Senator:

"I am glad to respond to the question addressed to me by your letter of October 26. The words I used in my address to the congress of January 8, 1918, were:

"'The removal, so far as possible, of all economic barriers and the establishment of an equality of trade conditions among all the nations consenting to the peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.'

"I, of course, meant to suggest no restrictions upon the free determination by any nation of its own economic policy, but only that, whatever tariff any nation might deem necessary for its own economic service, be that tariff high or low, it should apply equally to all foreign nations; in other words, that there should be no discrimination against some nations that did not apply to others. This leaves every nation free to determine, for itself, its own internal policies and limits only its right to compound these policies of hostile discrimination between one nation against another. Weapons of economic discipline and punishment should be left to the joint action of all nations, for the purpose of punishing those who will not submit to a general program of justice and equality.

"Experiences of the past among nations have taught us that the attempt by one nation to punish another, by exclusive and discriminatory trade agreements has been a prolific breeder of that kind of antagonism which oftentimes results in war, and that if a permanent peace is to be established among nations, every obstacle that has stood in the way of international friendship should be cast aside. It was with that fundamental purpose in mind that I announced this principle in my address of January 8. To pervert this great principle for partisan purposes, and to inject the bogey of free trade, which is not involved at all, is to attempt to divert the nation from the broad and humane principles of a durable peace by introducing an internal question of quite another kind.

"American businesses have in the past been unaffected by a policy of the kind sugested and it has nothing to fear now from a policy of simple international justice. It is, indeed, lamentable that the momentous issues of this solemn hour should be seized upon in an effort to bend them to partisan service.

"To the initiated and discerning the motive is transparent and the attempt fails.

"Sincerely yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

LUDWIG KNOCKED WIFE'S TOOTH OUT

While She Will Ill With Influenza at Family Home on Larch Street—McCowen Drank Too Much Whiskey to Ward Off Influenza.

Ludwig Remisgenski, of Larch street, an employe of the lace mills, is in trouble again. This time he was arrested on a charge of public intoxication by Officer Simpson. This morning his trial was adjourned for one week as his wife is ill in bed with influenza, and he was paroled in the custody of his attorney, Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr.

According to the police Ludwig assaulted his wife while she was ill in bed and knocked one of her teeth out. The tooth is now in possession of the police. His wife was too ill to appear in court against her husband which was the reason for an adjournment being taken.

James McCowen of New York city came to Kingston Sunday on his way to Shokan. He heard of the influenza epidemic and deciding to ward it off drank to much whiskey and was found helplessly drunk on Ferry street by Officer Healey. This morning he informed Judge Schirick it was the first time he had drank in nine years. He was give an opportunity to make his proposed trip to Shokan.

TWO LOCAL NAMES ON CASUALTY LIST

Walter S. Black and John C. Sparling Reported Wounded in Action in August—Local Men Probably in Famous Battalion.

The name of Walter S. Black, of Eddyville, appears in the casualty list today as having been wounded in action, degree undetermined, and his mother, Mrs. Lewis D. Black has received official notice to the same effect, stating that the wound was received on August 16. Private Black was a member of Company F, 306th Infantry, 77th (Camp Upton) Division of the National Army. It is believed that this company, in which a number of Ulster county men are serving, was part of the battalion that was cut off by the Germans for three days, but held out without food until relief came, the major replying to a German summons to surrender by saying, "Tell them to go to hell." From the date given in the telegram, it is probable that Private Black was wounded before this event occurred. It is known that the company has been in the front line and under fire for 21 days at one time. Private Black is a brother of Peter A. Black of his city and Creek Locks and a grandson of the late Daniel Black of the Rosendale road.

The name of John C. Sparling of No. 43 St. James street, this city, also appears in the list of wounded in action, degree undetermined. He is a son of John J. Sparling, who received notice that Private Sparling was wounded in action on August 22. The last letter received from him was in August, in which he stated he was in a hospital and had been gassed.

GERMANY AWAITS ALLIED PROPOSALS

Solf Asserts Government Is One By the People and Is Awaiting Allied Proposals For an Armistice Preliminary to Peace.

Germany's Latest Answer.

Germany's answer to President Wilson's latest communication says:

"The German government has taken cognizance of the answer of the President of the United States.

"The President is aware of the far reaching changes which have been carried out and are being carried out in the German constitutional structure and that peace negotiations are being conducted by a people's government in whose hands rest, both actually and constitutionally, the power to make the deciding conclusions.

"The military powers are also subject to it.

"The German government now awaits proposals for an armistice, which shall be the first step toward a just peace, as the President has described it in his proclamation.

(Signed) "SOLF."

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Germany's latest communication does not require any reply from President Wilson. Officials today simply characterized it as an acknowledgment of his answer of October 23.

The inclusion in it of further protestations that the peace negotiations are being conducted by a "people's government" was described by officials as in the nature of a small boy whistling in the dark room to keep his courage up. It is very plain, officials say, that the German officials, by emphasizing again and again their claimed changed constitution, hope to impress the president and get him to lighten the terms that will be required as a preliminary to any actual peace.

Officials, however, insisted again today that any armistice terms granted Germany will be of a character that will render the German military and naval machine absolutely impotent and if accepted, actually mean the end of the war.

Officials did not expect that the latest German reply would reach here before late today or tomorrow. The official text is understood to have been handed to the Swiss diplomatic representative in Berlin Sunday night. Delay in coding it and the usual delay in transmission naturally would consume many hours. It is believed here that it will reach here about the same time as the reported Austrian reply which was to have been started for Washington, according to Swiss advices, this morning. This latter reply is described in messages reaching the diplomatic corps here from neutral countries as most concilatory in tone.

It is assumed here that the work of completing the conditions on which Germany may secure an armistice will be started at the meeting of the inter-allied war council which is scheduled to begin at Versailles tomorrow and at which the United United States is to be represented by Colonel E. M. House, General Tasker H. Bliss and Admiral William S. Benson. It will be attended by the British, French, Italian and other Allied premiers and military and naval commanders. The first thing which will be decided, officials say, is whether any armistice can be granted Germany under existing military conditions. If one is to be granted, then it is expected that the work of completing terms will be begun. While there have been many versions of possible armistice conditions officials said today no hard and fast rules have yet been agreed on. There are two questions that will govern, a cabinet official said today. They are:

Can the Allies under existing circumstances, with the German army still extremely powerful, agree to the principle of an armistice?

"If this question is replied to in the affirmative, then there are two other determining factors. They are how to render the German navy powerless to undertake any surprise raids, to put all submarines out of commission and to compel the demobilization of the German army and the surrender to the guardanship of the Allies of such German centers as would effectively prevent any renewal of hostilities by Germany should she, at the last minute, decide that conditions of peace were such that they could not be accepted. In plain words, it means unconditional surrender by Germany in advance of peace negotiations no matter how the terms may be camouflaged."

Settlement of the questions, in the opinion of this official, is absolutely a military problem which no one is capable of speaking on but the active military heads of the army and of the navy.

There were many officials here today who believed that the reported acceptance of the resignation of General Ludendorff as quartermaster general of the German army meant that Germany will accept any armistice terms that may be imposed by the Allies. His retirement at this time must have a serious effect on the morale of the entire German army. It has been Ludendorff who has been the leader of the Pan-Germans, although he is understood to have opposed the Verdun and Marne offensives. And if it is true that he has retired from his post it means that with him will go the entire arrogant German general staff which has been responsible for the conduct of the war.

There is no doubt that Germany is short of all kinds of raw materials. One reason for this has been that the supply which has been drawn from neutral countries has been greatly reduced since the Allies took over the offensive. Swedish and Dutch officials who have been pro-German in the past have all changed their positions. This has cost Germany large quantities raw materials which it has previously able to get from neutral sources.

Officials here believe that the critical moment in the present situation will come before the end of the present week. If Germany really must have peace, and there are many here who believe this, both American officials and members of the diplomatic corps, then she will accept any avenue that will lead to the end of the war, even unconditional surrender. If her peace maneuvering has been designed to deceive the Allies and thus to gain time not only has it failed of its purpose, but it will require some real explanation within Germany to the German people. There is no question that Germany is ripe for a revolution and if it can be shown that the officials have been misleading the people nothing can prevent an actual outbreak in the opinion of officials here. The bold declaration of Maximilian Harden in an interview with the Berlinske Tidende's Berlin correspondent in which he said:

"Wilhelm II has been a film hero, with Germany the vulgar cinema showing him to the world. * * * * * We sit upon the ruins of thirty years of Hohenzollern policies, coupled with his denunciation of the Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest treaties shows the trend of the radical thought in Germany in the opinion of nearly all officials here. It is believed here that the Socialists are about to serve notice on Germany proper that a republic must be formed. Whether they could force this appears doubtful from all of the information that can be gathered here but they will force far more radical reforms, officials say, than have so far been considered by the German rulers.

No matter what may transpire in Germany, officials said today that nothing will be permitted to interfere with the absolute harmony between the Entente Allies and the United States. With Colonel House on the ground in Paris it is expected here that absolute diplomatic unity of action will be secured from now on.

AUSTRIA READY TO MAKE PEACE

Reply Said to Be of Such a Nature as to Make Peace With Austria a Certainty at an Early Date.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Oct. 28, (12:30 p. m.)—Austria fully accepts President Wilson's terms, according to a dispatch to the Agence Radio.

London, Oct. 28.—(2 p. m.)—Austria in her reply to President Wilson's separate peace note accepts all of the president's views in the American note of October 16 and states that the Austro-Hungarian government is ready, without awaiting other negotiations, to negotiate peace and an immediate armistice on all battle fronts, said a news agency dispatch from Amsterdam this afternoon.

The Austrian reply was sent yesterday by Count Andrassy, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, from Vienna, another news agency dispatch said.

According to this dispatch the reply is of such nature as to make peace a certainty at an early date.

The British press interprets the Austrian note as meaning a definite break between Austria and Germany and a separate peace for Austria-Hungary.

At the foreign office it was stated that the Austrian terms had not been received there.

Up to late this afternoon the terms had been received only through news agencies.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Austria's reported decision that she is willing to enter into peace negotiations immediately and to effect an armistice on all fronts without waiting for further negotiations, made a deep impression in official circles here this afternoon. If the Amsterdam dispatch is authentic, another long step toward peace has been taken, it was believed here. In the absence of anything official, state department officials declined to make any formal comment, but at the same time it was apparent they were convinced that, if Austria stands ready to make peace independent of her allies, the end of the war has been brought nearer. However, it was pointed out, that the decision would be up to the president and that only he could speak.

Unofficially it was pointed out that Austria, by offering an armistice practically at any terms the Allies might set down, would "beat Germany to it," and that such action would have a tremendous effect at Berlin. With Austria definitely out of the war, officials believed, Germany would hasten to accept any terms that might be offered her—even to "unconditional surrender." If her peace efforts of the past few weeks have really been insincere, and launched with a view of getting a few weeks' respite in which to marshal her badly hammered military forces, it is believed the Austrian action would result in a complete change of heart among the German leaders.

Just what "negotiations" the dual monarchy had in mind when the reply was penned, of course, could not be learned here. However the belief was freely expressed in some quarters that the president would be less averse under the circumstances, to negotiating with Austria than with Germany. It was pointed out that America's war has been, in the main, against Germany—that it was primarily Germany, rather than the dual monarchy, that had drawn America into the war. And because of this fact the belief was expressed that Austria's peace seeds might possibly fall upon more fertile ground than those of her ally.

London, Oct. 28.—Revolutionaries now control all of Croatia, according to the Zurich correspondent of the Post. Croats cheered President Wilson in their demonstrations Friday and Saturday.

NATIONAL COUNCIL FORMED IN HUNGARY

National Council Asks Assembly to Declare End of Alliance With Germany and Accept Wilson Peace Principles.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Advices from neutral countries reaching Washington diplomats this afternoon say that a pacific revolution already is an accomplished fact in Hungary. A Hungarian national council has been formed, it is stated, and has assumed control of the internal affairs of the country. Up to the present the head of this council appears to be Count Michael Karolyi. Delegates of the Socialists and Radicals assembled Friday night and immediately formed a new Hungarian assembly. They designated Count Karolyi to preside over it. The council addressed a pressing appeal to the Hungarian peoples demanding that an immediate end be put to the present methods of the government and calling for the creation of an independent Hungary. The new assembly was to be asked to declare:

The alliance with Germany at an end.

The chamber of deputies abolished.

Acceptance of all of President Wilson's peace principles.

That Hungary must be represented independently at any peace conference and its votes shall be cast for absolute disarmament, obligatory arbitration and the liberty of all nations.

Following adoption of this program a delegation made up of Count Karolyi, Count Batthyanyi and former Home Minister Ugron was received by Emperor Charles. They told him of their decision and that the assembly would assume control of the nation's destiny. Since then the Hungarian newspapers have refused to submit to censorship.

The situation within Hungary remains serious. One report says that a council of workmen and soldiers has been formed which points to the existence of a Bolshevik movement there.

FREE SEEDS NEXT YEAR.

Allotments Will be Reduced Owing to Short Productions.

Congressman Ward has received an announcement from the department of agriculture that plans have been perfected for the congressional distribution of seeds for next season. Owing to the light yields and low deliveries of certain seed grown on contract this season for the department of agriculture and the scarcity and high price of the seed found necessary to purchase and supplement the deliveries under these growing contracts, it has been necessary to reduce the allotments below those of last year.

The quota for the 27th congressional district, comprising the counties of Columbia, Schoharie, Greene, Ulster and Sullivan, as approved by the secretary of agriculture, subject to change if the unusual conditions prevailing in the seed trade in consequence of the European war make it necessary, is fourteen thousand packages of vegetable seed and one thousand packages of flower seed. As the task of distributing government seeds each year is a large one, requiring considerable time, all requests should be forwarded to Congressman Ward's office before the close of the year.

There are also available copies of the latest Year-book of the department of agriculture for the year 1917 which will be sent, as long as the supply lasts, to those who may be interested in agriculture.

Requests for seeds of Year-books may be made by postal card or letter addressed to Congressman Charles B. Ward, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

Painful Dental Work.

In the time of Nero there were professional dentists who could replace lost teeth with artificial ones made of sycamore wood, which were fastened to their natural neighbors with gold wire. A gold plate with several teeth attached has been found in an Etruscan tomb. But those dentists knew nothing of the art of excavating and filling cavities. When a tooth became too painful they removed it, not by pulling it but by prying it out in a manner that must have been most distressing to the sufferer.

Found.

"Aha!" hissed the Pullman porter. "I have found the secret of his berth!" And he took a flask from under the passenger's pillow.—Cartoons Magazine.

DRUGGISTS !! PLEASE NOTE
VICK'S VAPORUB OVERSOLD
DUE TO PRESENT EPIDEMIC

Tremendous Demand Last Few Days Has Wiped Out Excess Stocks That We Had Estimated Would Last Until Next January---Last Week's Orders Called For One and Three-Quarter Million Jars---Today's Orders Alone Amount to 932,459 Jars.

Big Shipments Are En Route to Jobbers—Until These Arrive There May Be a Temporary Shortage, All Deals Postponed—Buy in Small Lots Only.

RETAILERS CAN GET IMMEDIATE SHIPMENTS DIRECT BY PARCEL POST.

This advertisement is written on Monday. October 21st. It is directed to the attention of all distributors of Vick's VapoRub; both wholesale and retail. In an emergency such as the present epidemic—our duty—and your duty—is to distribute Vapo Rub in the quickest possible manner to those sections stricken by influenza. We, therefore, call your careful attention to the following:

DANGER OF SHORTAGE IF SUPPLY IS NOT CONSERVED.

On October 1st we had on hand, at our factory and in twenty warehouses scattered over the country, sufficient VapoRub to last us, we thought, until January 1st, allowing for a 50 per cent increase over last year's sales, and not counting our daily output. This big excess stock had been accumulated during the summer months

Then this epidemic of Spanish influenza hit us— and in the last ten days this stock has vanished. At first we thought this tremendous demand would last only a few days, but the orders have run:

Wednesday. Oct. 16, 18,504 Doz.
Thursday. Oct. 17, 25,323 Doz.
Friday, Oct. 18, 39,256 Doz.
Saturday, Oct. 19, 45,833 Doz.
Monday. Oct. 21, 77,705 Doz.

Up to Saturday, October 19th, we have actually shipped for this month $400,284.10, or over two million jars of VapoRub.

THE PROBLEM NOW IS TO DISTRIBUTE VAPORUB QUICKLY.

Most of this tremendous quantity is still en route to the jobbers, but freight and express are both congested nowadays, and it may be some time before this supply reaches the jobbers. In the meantime, therefore, it is necessary that we distribute, as widely as possible, the stock that we are manufacturing daily, together with that now on the jobbers' and retailers' shelves, in order that it may get to the Influenza districts quickly. Our normal output is about 4,000 dozen per day. We are putting on a night shift, but it will be a little while before that is producing.

WHAT WE ASK THE WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS TO DO.

Last Saturday we notified all of our jobbers by special delivery as follows:

1st—Deals and quantity shipments of all kinds are cancelled. Fill no quantity orders of any kind, whether taken by our salesmen or by your own. Sell in small lots only.

2nd—Order from us in as small quantities as possible. If you are out we will try to ship a limited amount by parcel post or express, and pay the charges ourselves.

3rd—In order to make distribution still quicker, we will ship direct to your retail customers quantities not more than three (3) dozen 30c size at any one shipment.

4th—We are now out of the 60c size and will be for the next 10 days.

WHAT WE SHALL ASK THE RETAIL DRUGGIST TO DO.

Buy in as small quantities as possible. If you have any quantity orders, given the jobber's salesmen or given to our saesmen, don't bother about them—no need to write us—it is absolutely impossible to fill these orders at this time. If the jobbers in your territory are out of Vick's VapoRub, we will ship you by parcel post, prepaid, quantities not more than three (3) dozen 30c size in any one order. Naturally, we can't open accounts at this time, so your check or money order for this amount must accompany order. Don't write us stating to ship through your jobber, as we have to wait until we write this jobber and get his O. K. If you wish the goods to come through your jobber, have him order them for you.

SNOWED UNDER WITH CORRESPONDENCE.

Our force has already been "shot to pieces"—twenty-four of our men are wearing Uncle Sam's khaki—and this recent rush has simply buried us. All our sales force has been called in to help in the office and factory. We just mention this so you won't hold it against us if your wires and letters aren't answered promptly.

SPECIAL BOOKLETS ON SPANISH INFLUENZA.

We will send, on request, to any retail druggist, 100 or more little booklets, just issued, on Spanish Influenza, giving the latest information about this disease—its history—the symptoms—the treatment, and particularly the use of Vick's VapoRub as an external application to supplement the physician's treatment.

THE NEW WAYS TO USE VAPORUB.

In addition to the usual method of using VapoRub—that is, applied over the throat and chest covered with hot flannel cloths—our customers are writing us daily telling of their success in using VapoRub in other ways, particularly as a preventive. They melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors arising, or melt it in a benzoin steam kettle. Where the steam kettle is not available, VapoRub can be used in an ordinary tea kettle. Fill the tea kettle half full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

According to a bulletin just issued by the Public Health Service, Dr. Stiles, of this service, recommends that the nose be kept greased as a preventive measure against the influenza germs. For this purpose VapoRub is excellent.

Soul That is Truly Great.

Emerson, that greatest of modern philosophers, has told us that it is easy when in a crowd to allow ourselves to be swayed by the opinions of others and comparatively easy to keep our individuality and sweetness when alone, but that the great soul is he who in the midst of a mass of other individuals can still keep the poise and sweetness of solitude.

The Difference.

"Of course, it seems funny," said the ferocious observer's wife. "But the evening gown is for the woman who stays up most all night, and the nightgown is for the one who goes to bed about nine o'clock."

Monument to Genius.

Amid the ruins of the capitol at Rome, on October 15, 1764, Edward Gibbon formed the resolve to write "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," and on the night of June 27, 1787, nearly twenty-three years later, in the summerhouse of his garden, the last word was written, but in those intervening years Gibbon had built an enduring monument to his own genius.

The Difference.

"Of course, it seems funny," said the ferocious observer's wife. "But the evening gown is for the woman who stays up most all night, and the nightgown is for the one who goes to bed about nine o'clock."

NOT MUCH LEFT OF ROE'S KITCHEN

Three Days Under Shell Fire and Twice Hit—Pathetic Picture of Suffering of the French People—But "Don't Worry," Writes the Sergeant.

The following letter has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Willis Roe of No. 117 North Front street by their son, Sergeant Willis Roe, Jr.:

Somewhere in France.
Sept. 19, 1918.

Dear Mother and Father:

After a 3 nights' hike we are now resting in a nice woods in some village here. We marched about 30 miles in 3 nights, and Billy is getting to be some marcher. I'm getting quite used to it now, and in our hike we did not have a man to drop out in our company. I'm just after reading a Freeman. Of course it is 6 weeks old, but it seems as if it is 3 days old. I have not received much mail lately, but I suppose I will get it all at once.

I wish you could see this woods we are in. Something fine, and is very large, so large that they have one whole regiment in it, that is over 3,000 men, and it is sure nice to be with so many soldiers. I'm making some soldier. I can sleep under a tree in the rain just as good as in a feather bed, and don't mind it a bit. My regiment is in the trenches and has been for 3 days. All that time we have been under shell fire. I am back in a little village one-half mile from them, but it is not safe here, only I have more of a chance getting out of the way from it. We have a small dug-out to sleep in and to get in when the firing is at its height. We have lost a few men, but am lucky compared to some companies. My kitchen was shelled twice, so there is not much left of it, so I have a new kitchen coming, but we have been lucky in stepping clear of it both times with myself and cooks unharmed. I'm in my dug-out with 15 soldier boys, all singing and having a great time. You would think we were not in war at all to hear us

The gas is thrown at us about every night, so do not sleep much at night. So you see Mr. Gas Mask never leaves us.

Don't worry, mother and father, because I have great faith in seeing old U. S. A. again, and I am just as happy as ever.

I wish you could see how the French people had to leave their homes all furnished, just as if some one was living here. In some homes dinner is set all ready on the table, and it looks as if they had to leave before dinner, and it is a shame to see the towns all knocked to pieces, homes destroyed and some burned to the ground.

The morning we came in this town 4 French women came to me for something to eat, and of course I fed them, and they could not thank me too much for it. They had been driven out of their homes and were on their way to a place of safety.

I'm some Bill and in the best of health, and I'm glad to be healthy enough to do my bit and feed the boys who are giving their lives up for U. S. A.

Of course my life is not as safe as when in Camp Dix, but we all have to take a chance and if I figure right my chance is as good as the next one and I'm big and strong enough to take all the rough and outdoor life there is to it.

Well, dear mother and father, I cannot tell you much more, but when I get back it will take me 6 weeks to tell you all I have seen in this awful war.

Hoping this will find you all in the best of health at home, and love and best wishes to all.

Your true son.
BILL.

Seldom has a community been so appalled as was the town of Gardiner last Friday morning when the announcement of the death of Dr. M. E. Stephens was made. The deaths during the past few weeks were indeed many and had the effect of sobering the minds of everybody. This news, however, was indeed awful. Dr. Stephens had been ill only a few days. He was taken down with the influenza. For a time he seemed to be on the way to recovery, but a sudden change took place and pneumonia set in and he rapidly grew worse. Every possible thing that could be done to save his life was done. He was attended by Drs. Tiernan of New Paltz and Sadlier of Poughkeepsie and Mrs. Anna B. Neander, a very able and efficient nurse. Dr. Stephens was born at Frankfort, N. Y., the son of Stewart and Margaret Stephens. His early education was received in the schools of Frankfort and in the Whitestone Seminary, from which he was graduated in 1880. For a short time afterwards he taught school. It was his ambition, however, to become a physician. He gave up teaching, entered the Albany Medical College and graduated from this in 1885. Then having interned in the Albany Hospital for 18 months he located in the village of Gardiner, which has been his home ever since. January 18, 1893, he married Miss Mary LeFevre of Gardier. Mrs. Stephens died very suddenly about six moths ago. Dr. Stephens literally sacrificed his life for the people of the community in which he lived. The task he was called upon to perform was stupendous. It was enough to tax the strength of one in the very prime of life and in the fullest of health. During the past three weeks he attended over 400 patients. He was kept going night and day. And yet he never was known to turn a patient away or to refuse to respond to a call. He was a big man physically and he was great of heart. He always had a smile and kind word for everybody. By all the children he was loved and by all adults honored. Outside his professional his life was active. All public affairs interested him and in the work of the church he always occupied a foremost place. He was one of the organizers of the Gardiner Reformed Church and for many years served in the consistory. He held the position of public health officer for many years. He was the attending physician at the County Alms House. He had been the postmaster and always was at the head of local committees. He, too, was a member of the County and State Health Society and of several fraternal organizations. The doctor is survived by three brothers, Rozelle Stephens of Frankfort, Dr. John H. Stephens of West Winfield, and Frank Stephens of Utica, and one sisters, Miss Mary Delilah Stephens, at present living at Gardiner, and two children, Homer L., at present studying medicine at the Albany Medical College, and Lucille, who is teaching school in the High School at Newton, N. J.

DOWN WITH PROFITEERS

The food profiteer is no meaner than the political profiteer. The one takes advantage of our physical necessities, while the other tries to use our patriotic sympathies to further his private ends. "All Highest" Wilson tells us that we must vote for Democrats if we desire to win the war. This is unparalleled impudence in view of the fact that but for Republican votes in Congress the legislation he asked in order to raise an effective army would have been defeated. Wilson says himself in his manifesto that the Republicans in Congress "have unquestionably been pro-war." Yet he makes the absurd declaration that Republican success would encourage Germany. His understrappers said the same thing during the Maine campaign a few weeks ago but Maine went Republican by emphatic majorities, and Foch has not been noticeably disheartened. The same high and mighty autocrat, thinking to make himself "solid" with suffragists, declared that the adoption of the suffrage amendment was "vital" to the winning of the war, but the Senate turned down the proposition and Foch has not yet surrendered.

It is not easy to fool a people who are so eager in the cause of liberty that they are giving their lives by the myriad and are paying taxes and making contributions to the limit of endurance. Shall we do all this and yet allow the man we chose as our servant to make himself our master? It is vitally important for us to show our manhood and our womanhood by squelching this scurvy attempt to establish Prussianism in this country. It is true that the President has thus far confined his orders to Congressional contests, but the rebuke he deserves goes beyond that. We hear every day of life long Democrats who are going to vote a straight Republican ticket this year. We hear every day of Republicans who had resolved to scratch Whitman because of his unpleasant record on prohibition but who are now going to vote for him and every other Republican candidate, big and little. Minor issues do not count now. Everything else is dwarfed by the issue whether patriotism shall be capitalized for personal political advantage.

SELF-EXAMINATION

A thoughtful writer has impressively observed that "that which gives the strongest habitual pleasure will, in the majority of cases, ultimately dominate; that the magnetic power of the "intensely pleasurable is the true basis of character and with the majority of men it mainly determines conduct." That is to say, a man will be ultimately controlled and his character fixed by his dominating chief desire.

This chief desire may be to become famous, to grow rich, to live an orderly and useful life, or habitually to commit one or more of the evils condemned in the Ten Commandments wherever it may be possible to do so without danger of detection or loss of reputation. Whatever a man thinks of most and with the greatest pleasure when alone, whatever he would secretly propose to himself to do as soon as all obstacles or restraints should be removed—that is his dominating chief desire. Character is salvation, and the quality of a man's character depends on the nature of his dominating desires. He may live under a mask or in disguise for a life time, but he will become himself at last outwardly as well as inwardly, and what he really is depends on what he lets himself love best.

It is quite obvious, therefore, that frank and serious self-examination, though a disagreeable and much neglected occupation, is necessary in the case of the man who wishes to know whither he is tending or what sort of character he is really building. No other knowledge is more important, for without it there can be no battle with unworthy inclinations and no real triumph over these.

IMPROVED LANGWAJ

It is good to be able to laugh amid the tragedies of war, and the opportunity is offered gratis by the apostles of "simplified" spelling. This might seem to be the real object of these queer people. They might seem to wish to keep a healthful gale of laughter sweeping over a country at war by attempting to make an Artemus Ward or a Josh Billings out of every one of their converts. But timely and healthful mirth is not their purpose. They are as serious in their determination to improve our "langwaj" as any ordinary monomaniac. Witness the following offering of one Joseph Collins, a Wisconsin school teacher, who boasts that he "saves 10 per cent" of the usual number of letters employed:

The Lord iz my shepurd, Y shal not want. He maceth me tu ly doun in gren pastyurs. He ledeth me beayd the stil wqturs. He restoreth my sol. He ledeth me in the pathz ov rytyusnes for his namz sac. Ya, tho Y wak thru the vali ov the shado ov deth, Y wil fer no evil, for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staf tha cumfort me. Thou preparest a tabul befor me in the prezens ov myn enemez, thou anointest my hed with oil, my cup runeth ovur. Surli gudnes and murci shal folo me al the daz ov my lyf, and Y wil dwel in the hous ov the Lord forever.

Many of us who expected to be only amused by a spectacle of humorous idiocy are likely to turn with a frown of indignation from this hideous as well as pointless mangling of a sacred classic.

WILLIAMS FRIEND OF STATE WATERWAY

State Engineer Frank M. Williams is particularly anxious to see the Hudson river play a large part in the inland waterway development of New York state. He wishes during the term of office to which he expects to be re-elected in November to be able to construct state owned and operated terminals at each of the cities along the Hudson river.

At the time of the original appropriation of the Barge Canal Fund in 1903 one of the principal arguments advanced in favor of the proposition was that iron ore could pass through the barge canal and be laid down at points along the Hudson river at such greatly reduced transportation rates that there would grow up along this river a great number of steel and iron industries. The facts of this argument are correct, but the immediate thing in hand is the movement of commodities now used or produced in these cities which should be handled over the water of the Hudson river moving to or from these cities by boat instead of by rail. These cities need the terminals at once in order to receive the benefits of water-borne traffic. It is not wise to longer remain dependent on rail transportation while the benefits of the Hudson river as a potential transportation medium are within grasp, and may become available as soon as adequate terminals are constructed and in operation.

The practical accomplishment of this purpose requires time. It is necessary that wharves or docks be built, that warehouses and freight sheds be put up, that unloading machinery be installed, and that paved entrances be constructed. The Terminal Law as passed in 1911 makes no provision for terminals below Albany except within the city of New York. The cities of the Hudson river are clearly just as much a part of New York's waterway system as is Albany or New York, and this is the point that Mr. Williams has taken the pains to point out to the legislature at Albany on several occasions.

At the last session of the legislature a sum of money was appropriated for surveys and for the procuring of sites for four Hudson river cities. Mr. Williams has given a great deal of attention to this work, and it is now well in hand and nearing the point of closure. He expects within a short time to be able to announce the exact location of the sites selected, with maps showing the proposed layouts of the improvement together with a statement of the probable cost of construction. Following this it will be necessary for those interested in the subject and this should include all the people in the valley, to again appear, by representatives, before the state authorities and urge the appropriation of the necessary funds to carry out the work. In this connection the voters should keep in mind that the stand of Mr. Williams in the matter is well known and they should reflect on what a change of officials in the state engineer's office might mean to the fortunes of these cities and to the state [illegible] future.

THERE are only two kinds of clothes, those that save and those that waste. If you buy wasteful clothes you are depriving the government of needed resources of material and labor.

If you want to save, insist on clothes of good quality; all-wool materials; reliable tailoring. One such suit can be made to do double service this year if you wear it carefully and keep it well pressed.

Our duty is to see that you get such clothes, and we know we can meet our obligations best by offering

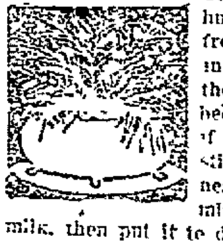
THE KITCHEN CABINET

The community cannot rise much above the level of the individual home, and the home rises only by the pull of the community regulations or by the initiative of a few especially far-sighted individuals.—Ellen Richards.

IDEAS FOR THE COOK.



Before the sweet corn is gone do not fail to prepare some for winter use. Pick it and husk it and cut it from the cob within an hour from the time it has been growing; then if it is to be dried stir it over the heat for a few minutes to set the milk, then put it to dry as usual. If it is to be canned boil it for five minutes on the cob, then dip in cold water and drain, cut from the cob and pack into jars; into each put a teaspoonful of salt to a quart can and fill the remaining space with boiling water. Seal slightly, so that the jar may be handled without loosening the cover. Perhaps a better way is to seal it tight, then turn back a quarter way round; this leaves the jar so that air may escape into the boiler and keep the pressure inside and out. Have a boiler with a wooden rack in the bottom to hold up the jars and cover them to the depth of an inch over the top of the highest jar. Count the time of cooking only when the water is boiling and cook three hours, adding 10 to 15 minutes longer for two-quart cans. Remove and seal tightly. If the rubber bulges out, unscrew the cover and slip it back, without exposing the contents to the air; this may be done quickly and no bad results will follow.

Corn Relish.—Cut the corn from two dozen ears, chop fine one head of cabbage, four large onions, four green peppers, all chopped. Mix three cupfuls of sugar, three-fourths of a cupful of mustard and a teaspoonful of turmeric; when well mixed add a quart of vinegar and the other vegetables and boil one hour; add two teaspoonfuls of celery seed and put away in glass jars sealed for winter use.

Make a list of all fruits, vegetables, [illegible] in the fruit cellar; then have each well labeled, for no [illegible] good for several months, and often it is hard to tell just what [illegible] in the list one [illegible] will be needed without looking over the collection.

HOME SOON AS HE GETS TO BERLIN

Writes Private Louis Kline to His Brother, Samuel Kline, and That Won't Take So Long for Are Getting Nearer Each Day.

Samuel Kline the lower Broadway merchant, has received a letter from his brother, Private Louis Kline in which he writes that he will be home as soon as they get to Berlin, and that it won't take long as they are getting nearer all the time. His letter follows:

Somewhere in France,
Sept. 17 1918.

Dear Brother Sam

Have just received your letter and was glad to get it and read that you are all well at home.

I can't understand why you don't get my mail, as I write every week and sometimes twice a week. Well, will say that I'm well and am feeling good. I wrote you in my last letter that I moved up farther towards the front. I'm at the front now and am sending some pills over to the Germans. We hear the guns roar all the time but I don't mind it at all. You see I'm used to it now. We have dug-outs but we don't sleep in them much. We are sleeping outside in our little tents. The weather is pretty good now. We had a rainy spell for a while. But it's nice again and I hope it stays that way.

I have seen some country before we reached where we are now. The country was beautiful. but it has nothing over on good old U. S. A. It don't beat our Catskill Mts.

Well, dear brother, I hardly know what else to write. No doubt you know more war news than I do. All I do know is, that I'm here and am doing my bit. I haven't met any of the boys from Kingston yet. though I'd love to meet some of them.

Excuse handwriting, as we have no writing tables here, and at present my knee is my writing table. Give my love and best regards to everybody at home, and tell mamma not to worry. I'll be home as soon as we get to Berlin, and I'm sure that it won't take so long, for you know we are getting nearer all the time.

Have no more to write at present. Hope this letter finds you all well. Don't worry about me. I'm well and feeling good. Give my regards to everybody I know. Love to the whole family.

I remain your loving brother

Was Quite Likely.

A Boston man says that an exacting housewife in that city telephoned to a meat dealer's place of business that the next order "you receive from me will be the last." The man at the other end of the wire agreed with her. He said that he was an undertaker.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Discovers a New Form of Gambling That is Being Played —Wilson's Campaign Note May Back Fire.

They were two well dressed young men, and as they stood on the street corner waiting for a trolley car they held an animated conversation. Said one "Let's toss for paints or unpaints." The other agreed and the one who spoke first said, "I get the paints."

"Yes," replied the other, "and undoubtedly you will win." Then they boarded the car.

While continuing their conversation they kept glancing about at the other occupants of the car, and finally the first one who spoke said, "Well, I win, there are just thirteen of them on board, and nine of them are paints."

Later the puzzling conversation was solved. They had been sizing up the women on board who had their cheeks painted, and those who had not.

Talking about "politics adjourned", Wilson's latest note is rather astounding from the fact that the Democratic statesmen are the ones who have been putting obstructions in the way of the successful prosecution of the war, while the Republican members of both houses have been using every effort to make this country fit and ready to whip Germany, and on every war question they have voted right. If you don't believe it just look up the records.

The Republican party believes in putting country first, and that has always been the record of the party. Wilson's insinuation that a vote for a Republican is a vote in favor of the Hun is too ridiculous for consideration. The latest note from the busy pen will have but one result and that is a back fire undreamed of by the country's greatest note writer.

Women's Home Defence Needs One for Widow and Four Children.

A Sweet Job.

"And now, since you have come out and asked us, Clara," said the indolent and youthful editor, "we may as well confess that our idea of a strenuous job is taming wild honey."

LOUGHRAN HAS KEPT PROMISE

That He Would Always be on the Job" as County Clerk, Performing the Manifold Duties of That Important Office.

CHRISTOPHER K. LOUGHRAN.

The Republicans of Ulster county have re-nominated as their candidate for the office of county clerk, Christopher K. Loughran.

Mr. Loughran is an Ulster county product, having been born in Kingston on December 29th, 1874, and has resided here continuously. His education began in the public schools of Kingston and was continued through Yale University and the New York Law School, he being admitted to the bar of New York state in 1898. Fraternally, he is a member of Kingston Lodge, No 10, F. & A. M., and Kingston Lodge of Elks, No 550.

In 1915 he was elected county clerk and since assuming the duties of that office he has made good his promise to be "on the job." His strict attention to business and his courteous treatment have won for him the highest respect and confidence of all who have come in contact with him, either as clerk of the county or as clerk of the courts. Since he has held this highly important office he has instituted reforms and introduced systems which have placed the conduct of this office on an efficient business basis: this is especially so with reference to the filing system which he has introduced whereby original records are assembled and numbered and can be quickly and accurately located when required.

The duties of a county clerk are many and varied, he being the custodian of the county records, register of mortgage tax, chief license clerk, clerk of the supreme and county courts, and also acting in a judicial capacity in the taxation of costs in legal proceedings. For the performance of these duties Mr. Loughran is peculiarly well fitted and has performed them in an impartial and efficient manner. An inquiry from any person who has had business dealings with this office for the past three years will substantiate our assertion.

In recommending the election of Christopher K. Loughran for county clerk we believe that he is the qualified person for the office: he has been tried and has proven his worth: he has devoted his entire time and effort to the duties of the office to which he was elected, and we believe that his re-election will assure to the people of Ulster county that the duties of the clerk of their county will be entrusted to the care of efficient and capable hands.

Finicky Elephant.

An elephant, in his native land, has a hard job to find what he likes to eat. Contrary to the general belief, he will not eat anything, but he selects carefully the best of roots, herbs, fruits and various vegetables. When in captivity, he eats about the same kind of fodder, with a few exceptions, including pastry, bread, nuts (chiefly peanuts) and some other goodies which may be offered to him. Elephants eat no kind of meat whatsoever; they will only eat pure grown food or clean bread or pastry.

Where Rain Never Falls.

There are parts of Egypt in which rain never falls; other places where it falls lightly about once in four years; and there are two great rainless districts of two or three millions of square miles, the one including the north of Africa and the other Mongolia and its neighborhood.

CHRISTMAS OVERSEAS HEADQUARTERS

To Send Gift Packages From Here, as Authorized by the War Department, and To Send Gift Packages From Paris.

OUR BRAVE BOYS "OVER THERE" WILL HAVE A GREAT CHRISTMAS AFTER ALL

The War Department announces that one Christmas package may be sent to each member of the American Expeditionary Forces soldiers, sailors, marines—men and officers and enlisted workers in other branches of the Expeditionary Force.

All packages must be mailed by November 1st. The earlier the better to avoid congestion. The articles from here must go in a standard container, 9x4x3 inches, and not exceeding three pounds in weight, to be issued by local chapters of the Red Cross.

It is surprising to find how many things these small containers will hold.

Come in and let us show you the things that you can get in one of these containers.

FOR FRIENDS AND RELATIVES NOT NEXT OF KIN.

who wish to send Christmas gifts abroad, we have arranged A SPECIAL PARIS-TO-THE-FRONT SERVICE by which selections of gifts may be made here and the goods purchased in Paris for delivery from there in time for Christmas. For the past few months we have been filling orders through this overseas service at the rate of many packages a week.

Of 81 Cases Treated, Many in a Desperate Condition. There Were 17 Deaths, Most of Them From Pneumonia.

The Emergency Hospital at the armory came to an end Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. The few patients who were left were sent to the Kingston City Hospital and to the Benedictine Sanitarium. All the medicines and supplies which were not used will be evenly divided and sent to the two hospitals. The food which remained will be sent to the Child Welfare Home and the hospitals. All people who have contributed supplies in glass, jars or dishes will please call for same at the armory Tuesday between 10 and 12 a. m.

The rooms which were used have been fumigated and things have been put in order.

Major Chandler, who is leaving town today, has sent the following report to the board of health:

To His Honor,
Palmer Canfield, Mayor of the City of Kingston

The Kingston Emergency Hospital closed its doors Sunday, the 27th of October, 1918.

It was thought of on Tuesday night, October 15th, 1918, was put in operation to receive patients on the 16th.

It turned no cases away, and acted as clearing house and relieved the over-flow from the other two institutions.

Many physicians were given calls from this institution by the members of the staff. They were followed up by nurses, and so made it possible for the majority of the physicians to be at work in the city.

The Motor Ambulance Corps was on duty constantly and rendered unusual services.

The Boy Scouts were indispensable and untiring in their work.

Dr. Laidlaw, of the State Board of Health, was present during the first two days. Miss Smith and Miss McElroy, state nurses, for 10 days. Drs. Chandler, O'Meara, Mary Gage Day, Van Hoevenberg, Gates and Gillett were in constant attendance.

Charles A. Warren was bookkeeper and Abe Freeman handled the telephone and Motor Service. Several stenographers assisted in the office.

Mrs George F. Chandler secured the helpers and arranged the schedule of work for each 24 hours.

Mrs. William Hutton was housekeeper and looked after the supplies, assisted by Mrs. Frank Keator and a corps of helpers.

Miss Davis and the school teachers did wonderful work in the kitchen. Fifty others volunteered their services, working as nurses, both day and night Foremost among these were the trained nurses who supervised the volunteers, and gave their invaluable services to the cause They were Mrs. William Glass, Mrs. Addison Pardee and Mrs. John Rodie.

The hospital treated, counting those remaining for 24 hours, 81. Of this number, many in the most desperate condition, there was a mortality of 17. Most of the deaths were due to pneumonia. One to laudanum poisoning, 4 to meningitis. Many other were treated at the doors and were kept for a short period of time, making over 100 patients handled in this institution.

Herewith is forwarded a file with the names of the patients' temperatures, charts, medication and other data, and a report of expenditures and money received, and donations.

Respectfully submitted,
GEO. F. CHANDLER,
Major M. C., U. S. A.,
Physician in Charge.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman

New York, Oct. 28.—The stock market in the first fifteen minutes of trading today reflected the accumulation of buying orders over Sunday brought in by the character of the news in regard to the German situation. The supply was scant and violent advances were required to reach selling orders in many issues. The Mexican group was again the most prominent. Mexican Petroleum advancing 11 points to 186 Southern Pacific was up 1⅛ points to 105, and American Smelting advanced 2½ to 92½. The shipping stocks also were in urgent demand, Marine Preferred moving up 1¼ to 123, and Atlantic Gulf 3 points to 112⅛. Steel Common made a gain of ⅝ to 111, which was lost before the end of the first fifteen minutes Studebaker advanced 2½ to 68½. Before the first quarter of an hour ended the demand slackened and much of the early gain was lost.

Steel Common dropped from 111 to 109½ under heavy offerings during the forenoon, while Baldwin was exceptionally weak, falling four points to 83¾. Mexican Petroleum suffered the worst break, dropping nine points to 177. The copper issues were strong for the greater part of the forenoon but reacted with the rest of the list before noon. The railroad stocks also held steady for some time but finally yielded to the pressure.

The market closed unsettled today; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies.

Washington Camp, No. 30, P. O. of A., will hold a short business at 14 Henry street this evening in order that those wishing to pay dues may do so.

River Traffic Light.

Towing on the Hudson river has not been very lively lately. The Cornell towing line has been sending only three tows a week up the river weekly lately and three down. Owing to government restrictions on building activities the brickyards did not run all summer excepting a very few and there has been but few brick shipped. The same condition exists as to Portland cement, but there has been some crushed stone shipped on barges in tows. Then too the grip epidemic has had its effect along the state canal stopping many boats from running. The grip also caused the tying up for a short time one or two Cornell tugs, members of the crews being ill.

GERMANS RETREAT LOSING HEAVILY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Oct. 28.—(1:05 p. m.)—The Germans have begun to fall back upon the high ground covering Hirson, a great railway center only five miles from the Belgian frontier.

This new retrograde movement was brought about by the five mile French advance of a 16 mile front, between the Oise and Serre rivers.

The Germans have lost heavily

On the Italian front the Allied advance is continuing despite difficult bridging operations over the Piave river in the Mont Ello sector.

THE SLACKER.

(Composed by Sergt. John Roy DuMond, 32d Co., 8th Bat., Depot Brigade, Camp Devens, Mass.)

Now since we've joined the army,
Do you think it's doing right,
To treat the slacker better
Than the man who has to fight?
If he won't defend his country,
He is hardly worth a damn,
And nothing but a nuisance
In the eyes of Uncle Sam.

From eighteen years to forty,
He's supposed to volunteer,
And buckle on his armor
With but little sign of fear;
But you'll find him chasing dollars,
Playing games or at a dance,
For he'd rather go to hades
Than to take a trip to France.

We're not disposed to grumble,
But we think it's mighty queer
That the soldier drinks the water
While the slacker gets the beer.
We must always be in quarters
Rather early in the night,
And line up in the morning
With our faces clean and bright.

But the slacker is a piker,
And with no one else to please,
Save the one and forty pounder
That he arms around at ease,
He is all for gain and pleasure—
For his country takes no chance—
But he ought to go to hades,
If he doesn't go to France.

The above was printed in the Springfield, Mass., Times, the writer being a Kingston young man, son of Walter DuMond, formerly of this city.

KRIPPLEBUSH.

Kripplebush, Oct. 25.—Mrs. John B. Davis died at her home in this place, after a short illness of Spanish influenza, followed by pneumonia. Mrs. Davis was 24 years of age and had always resided here. Interment was in Fairview cemetery at Pine Bush. Mr. Davis wishes to thank all those who so kindly aided him during his wife's illness, and for the sympathy shown him in his sad bereavement.

The Spanish influenza epidemic seems to be somewhat on the wane here, although there are still a number of cases in this vicinity.

THE LATE JAMES NOLAN.

Brother in the Service Writes a Letter of Appreciation.

Carlstrom Field,
Oct. 24, 1918.

Editor Kingston Daily Freeman:

Dear Sir—While reading a late issue of your valued paper, I noticed with a very deep feeling of appreciation, the glowing tribute paid my late brother by his true comrades in the office, where it was always his ambition to work.

I feel more than sad at this time, as I have been deprived of even seeing my dear brother at the close of his promising young life. Still I am compelled to make an extra effort to at least acknowledge openly, the last, and noble tribute, so well prepared, by the comrades my departed brother always held so dear.

His actions and continued advancement at his place of employment, came solely from following the manly and businesslike conduct of the boys who have paid him this very high tribute, and to them belongs the true credit of his success.

Trusting you may find space for my few, but sincere words of appreciation to the boys who have so honorably mentioned my departed brother's career, in which I know our entire family join as one. I am in sadness,

6,942 GRIP CASES REPORTED IN CITY

That Is Total Number Reported to Health Board up to 10 O'clock This Morning—Ambulance Calls Saturday and Sunday.

Since the last report made of grip cases in Kingston, 58 new cases were reported to the health board, bringing the total number of cases reported up to 10 o'clock this morning to the health board 6,942.

That the epidemic is on the wane is shown by the fact that it has been found unnecessary to maintain the emergency hospital in the armory, and it was closed Sunday and the remaining patients removed to their homes or to the Kingston City Hospital or the Benedictine Sanitarium.

It is expected that before the epidemic is finally checked the number of cases reported will total over 7,000.

Since October 4, the city ambulance has made 134 calls.

Those Saturday were: William Hughes from United States Hotel to Benedictine Sanitarium.

Harry Moxham from 455 Broadway to Benedictine Sanitarium.

Emiline Goldstein from Sawkill road to Benedictine Sanitarium.

Emma Terwilliger from 6 Converse street to Benedictine Sanitarium.

DeWitt Van Buren from 105 Main street to Benedictine Sanitarium.

Sunday calls follow: Frank Perri from emergency hospital to Kingston City Hospital.

Francis Haulenbeck from emergency hospital to Kingston City Hospital.

Mrs. Flick from emergency hospital to Benedictine Sanitarium.

Mrs. James Hamilton from Benedictine Sanitarium to 14 Derrenbacher street.

Mrs. Vance Hogan from emergency hospital to 82 East Union street.

Sarah Cavanaugh from emergency hospital to Benedictine Sanitarium.

LON SAT DOWN ON AN ELECTRIC BULB

As He Did Not Want to Carry it Around With Him, he Informed Sheriff Smith, Who Had Him Removed to Kingston City Hospital.

Last Friday evening Lon Keator, a trusty in the Ulster county jail, arose from bed and went to look after the jail heater as he thought it needed more coal thrown on the fire. He then returned, deciding to retire for the night. A window near his bed was open and as he reached up to close it he stumbled and fell fell backward on his bed. The bed was occupied by an electric light bulb of sixteen candle power. When Lon alighted on the bed the bulb disappeared. At least that was the story he told Sheriff Smith later when he reached a decision that he did not care to carry the glass bulb around on his person for the remainder of his days.

Sheriff Smith decided the best place for Lon and the electric light bulb was the Kingston City Hospital and he hurried Lon to that institution. When they reached the hospital and informed the physicians in charge of Lon and the bulb it was decided that Lon should undergo an operation to have the bulb removed from his person.

Dr. Dan Connelly, Dr. Norwood and Dr. Stern performed the operation. In removing the bulb with a pair of nippers the bulb cracked and it took about an hour to remove the pieces of glass from Lon's person.

Lon did not seem to suffer any strange symptoms from the disappearance of the bulb, and it was hard to believe that he carried one about on his person before the operation was performed. Lon is reported as none the worse for having his interior system electrically equipped.

Seven Deaths in Family.

Gardiner has been sadly afflicted with the influenza. On Wednesday, October 9, Ruly Enderly died of Spanish influenza. Shortly afterward two of his brothers, Samuel and Arthur, and two sisters, Edna and Mildred, became seriously ill with the same disease and died one week later—on Wednesday, October 16. Mildred was the wife of Emil L. Gierisch. Mr. Gierisch was also attacked by the disease and his death followed on Saturday morning, October 19. A little daughter of Samuel Enderly, named Lucile, has also been severely ill with influenza but is recovering. A little son of Mrs. Gierisch was a sufferer too from it but he has entirely recovered. For a few days the mother of the Enderly children was sick, but, notwithstanding her sad experience due to so many deaths in her family, is in pretty good condition again. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gierisch were buried in one grave in the Enderly plot near The Trapps, where all the others were interred except Samuel, whose remains were taken to Walden for burial. It is said one other of the family has since died, making seven in all.
